

AFPC Senior Vice President Ilan Berman interviewed by Politico regarding U.S. policy toward Iran

September 19, 2018

Related Expert: Ilan I. Berman

"It [UN General Assembly meeting] is the most public platform that Trump has to date to say our Iran strategy is not negotiable and that there will be consequences for not complying," [AFPC VP Ilan] Berman said. "But opposing parties are very likely to use the chance to push back and try to build consensus of their own to preserve the status quo." Continue the reading the Politico article here.