How have countries of Central Asia and the Caucasus responded to COVID-19 and how are they planning to recover and rebuild? The Central Asia-Caucasus Institute invites you to the presentation of the International Monetary Funds' Regional Economic Outlook for Central Asia and the Caucasus, published on October 19, 2020. This important study offers a positive account of mitigation measures but cautionary words for the future. Our speaker will be Dr. Subir Lall, Deputy Director, Middle East and Central Asia Department, International Monetary Fund.

Moderated by CACI Chairman, S. Frederick Starr.
