

AFPC's Alexander B. Gray and Douglas W. Domenech write on U.S. Security in the Pacific

February 26, 2021

Related Categories: Democracy and Governance; Intelligence and Counterintelligence

Related Expert: Alexander B. Gray, Douglas W. Domenech

"In mid-January, the White House declassified the "United States Strategic Framework for the Indo-Pacific," a document which had guided U.S. policy toward the region over the past several years. The strategy began the long and laborious—but crucial—bureaucratic process of adjusting to an era of renewed great-power competition, principally with the People's Republic of China".

Continue reading here.