

AFPC's Ilan I. Berman writes "Biden's Mideast Policy Could Become A Victim Of Beijing's Success"

March 3, 2021

Related Categories: Democracy and Governance; Economic Sanctions; Intelligence and Counterintelligence; International Economics and Trade; China; Iran; Israel; Middle East

Related Expert: Ilan I. Berman

"Just weeks into its tenure, the Biden administration is already executing a profound pivot in the Middle East. Its new approach—diplomatic overtures toward Iran, a harsher line toward the Gulf Arab monarchies and a more distant relationship with Israel—represents a marked shift away from the priorities of the Trump era, which emphasized cooperation with Jerusalem and Riyadh, and the containment of Tehran".

Continue reading here.