

Sydney Duckor

RESEARCH FELLOW AND PROGRAM OFFICER

Sydney Duckor joined the American Foreign Policy Council as a Research Fellow and Program Officer in June 2021. She serves as the main point of contact with the policymaking community in AFPC's Washington, D.C. office. She assists in the coordination of event management, AFPC's intern program, and related organizational matters. Ms. Duckor specializes in U.S. grand strategy, U.S. defense capabilities, and U.S.-Russia relations. Her most recent research projects include a study on hybrid warfare tactics in Ukraine and a strategic primer policy paper (in-progress) on the military applications of artificial intelligence. Ms. Duckor holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in International Affairs from the George Washington University, Elliott School of International Affairs, with concentrations in National Security Policy and Europe and Eurasia. During her time at GWU, Ms. Duckor interned at the U.S. Department of State, where she focused on European security issues and arms control, and the U.S. House of Representatives as a policy intern.

afpc@afpc.org

(202) 543-1006

AREAS OF EXPERTISE

DEFENSE TECHNOLOGY

RUSSIA INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

U.S. NATIONAL SECURITY
STRATEGY

---

RELATED PUBLICATIONS

September 14, 2022 | ARTICLE

What might be going on with Darya Dugina's assassination?

August 30, 2022 | BULLETIN

Russia Reform Monitor No. 2535

August 23, 2022 | BULLETIN

Russia Reform Monitor No. 2534

July 13, 2022 | E-JOURNAL

Europe and Russia's New War